fibreQUARTERLY publishes 3 on- line issues yearly, then produces an Anthology in a down loadable PDF format the basic concept was to create and maintain a central location in which to explore, present and celebrate, contemporary Canadian Textile and Fibre Art. While looking back at Canadian Textile art and production history.

We are always looking for preview/ promotional material about up and coming exhibitions as well as reviews. We are currently looking for stories on Production Line work be it home decor or fashion.

If you have story ideas please fell free to get intouch.

We are currently updating our editorial schedule for 2009 - 2010
